

Autori di questo numero/Contributors to this issue

Pier Davide Accendere (Ph.D.) collaborates with the Chair of History of Medieval Philosophy at the University of Milan, and with the Chair of History of Modern Philosophy at University of Eastern Piedmont (UPO). His main research interest lies in Renaissance Philosophy (Bessarion, Marsilio Ficino, Francesco Patrizi da Cherso, Giordano Bruno), History of Science in Early Modern Europe (Leonardo da Vinci, Galileo Galilei) and History of Metaphysics, with a particular focus on the relations between Platonism and Aristotelianism.

Bernardo Carli. He graduated in clinical psychology and neuropsychology from the University of Florence, expert in relaxation techniques and clinical autogenic operator.

Angelo D'Ambrosio, independent researcher, collaborates with the Chair of Modern History at the University of Salento, dealing mainly with issues related to religious institutions in the old regime. In the field of health events, he has published, among other things: Diet and health in the franciscan tradition. The therapeutic remedies of fra Bernardino Cristini, cent. XVII, (2016); “Herbis non verbis redeunt in corpora vires”. Curative remedies in seventeenth-century in Italy, (2016); Restorative food. Broths and restricted in the Italian pharmacopoeia of the ancient regime, cent. XVI-XVIII, (2018); The mouths in bed. Hospital dietetics and food health recipes for the care of the sick in the old regime, cent. XVII-XVIII, (2019); “The care of the body does not make the spirit languish”. Health care in the monastic rules of the ancient regime, (2019).

Carlo Gabbani graduated in Philosophy and in Psychology and holds a Phd in Philosophy. He teaches Philosophy and History. Among his books: Epistemologia e clinica (2013); Realismo e antirealismo scientifico. Un'introduzione (2018).

Giovanni Andrea Grisolia, MD. Pediatric Surgeon, formerly Director of the Pediatric Burns Center of Tuscany Region at Pediatric Meyer Hospital in Florence. Currently retired. He has participated as a speaker in numerous conferences, congresses and as teacher of courses on topics about Pediatric Surgery, Plastic Surgery and Pediatric Burns. Author of national and international publications in the field of Pediatric Surgery, Pediatrics and Pediatric Burns. He is the author of a monographic volume entitled "Burns in children".

Rosapia Lauro Grotto has a Degree in Physics, a Degree in Dynamic Psychology, and a Ph.D. in Cognitive Neurosciences, and she is actually Professor of Dynamic Psychology and Group Psychodynamics at the Department of Health Sciences of Florence University (Italy). She is responsible for the Laboratory for Multidisciplinary Analysis of Relationships in Health Care at UNISER; PIstoia (Italy). Her actual research interests are focused on two inter-related fields: the modellization of psychodynamic intrapsychic and groupal phenomena and the development of phenomenologic-hermeneutic research methods for action-research in the context of Health Care institutions.

Laura Lensi. Born in Florence in 1961, obtained a Diploma of Tourism Expert even though never worked in that sector. She worked on her own in the family business that dealt with prints. She is married and has a 34 years old daughter and a 25 years old son. Since 2007, she joined ATCRUP, Association that deals with burnt children, because her son Andrea had a burn when he was 11. After a while, she was elected President and she still is today.

Alessandra Lodi, Nurse, Ds Professional in Wound Care and Nursing Referent of the A.O.U. Meyer Pediatric Burns Center. Nursing Referent of the Care Unit for the pediatric burnt patients. A.B.L.S. Instructor. Teacher in nursing courses on the assistance of the pediatric burnt patient. She authored many scientific papers in this field, and took part in the principal scientific events in this research area.

Franca C. Papparella is in possession of a diploma of specialization and doctorate in late antique and medieval archeology. He is a contract professor of Late Antique Archeology and Christian Archeology at the University of Calabria. He participated in numerous excavations. Among the published research we mention those on Late Roman funerary archeology, christian iconography, pottery, archeology of the sacred.

Enrico Pinzauti. Specialist Medical Menager in Pediatric Surgery. Head of the A.O.U. Meyer Pediatric Burns Center. He authored many scientific papers on pediatric burns care, and took part in the principal scientific national and international events in this research area.