

AUTHORS

UMBERTO BRESCIANI, B.A. & M.A. in Philosophy & Theology (Parma, 1968), B.A. in History and Chinese Studies (University of Maryland, 1973), M.A. in Chinese Literature (National Taiwan University, Taipei, 1975), PhD in Chinese Literature (National Taiwan University, Taipei, 1983), is Assistant Professor of Italian Language at the National Taiwan Normal University (since 1973) and, since 2003, Assistant Professor of Italian Language at the Fujen Catholic University in Taiwan. His research focuses on comparative philosophy (Confucianism and Western thought) and theological dialogue (Confucianism and Christianity). Among his recent publications: Reinventing Confucianism: The New Confucian Movement, Ricci Institute, Taipei 2001; La filosofia cinese nel ventesimo secolo – I nuovi confuciani, Urbaniana University Press, Roma 2009; Il Confucianesimo Politico, in «Itinerari d'Impresa», n. 9, Rubbettino, Soveria Mannelli 2006; Confucianism and Christianity, in K.J. Becker-I. Morali-G. D'Costa (eds), Catholic Engagement with World Religions: A Comprehensive Study, Orbis Books, New York 2010.

ANTONIO CARNEVALE is Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Political Philosophy at the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna – Pisa. He spent research periods at the Institut für Sozialforschung (Johann Wolfgang Goethe-Universität, Frankfurt am Main) with Axel Honneth (2003), and he was Visiting Scholar at Committee on Social Thought of the University of Chicago (2006). His areas of specialization: modern and contemporaneous political philosophy, political and social thought of Hegel, theories of recognition, autonomy and intersubjectivity, social justice, shame, vulnerability and technology. Most significant publications: A. Carnevale-A. Lenci, Il "sociale" della giustizia. Questioni di genere e questioni di riconoscimento, Pensa Multimedia, Lecce 2008; A. Carnevale-I. Strazzeri (eds), Lotte, riconoscimento, diritti, Morlacchi University Press, Perugia 2011. Translations: A. Honneth, Il dolore dell'indeterminato, Manifestolibri, Rome 2003; A. Honneth, Paologie della ragione, Pensa Multimedia, Lecce 2012.

CHIARA CERTOMÀ is Postdoctoral Research Fellow at the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna – Pisa, where she works on environmental politics, urban and rural space planning and Science, Technology and Society. She is currently visiting researcher at the University of Ghent, Belgium, and conducted research at the Open University, UK, and at the Rachel Carson Center for Environment and Society, LMU, Munich. She recently co-edited the book The Politics of Space and Place: Exclusions, Resistance and Alternatives (Cambridge Scholarly Publishing, New-castle upon Tyne 2012) and authored a book on the emergence of political ecology in Italy (Laura Conti. Alle radici dell'ecologia, Edizioni e Ambiente, Milano 2012). Amongst the others, she has recently published the following articles in peer-reviewed journals: Biopolitica dello spazio. Popolazione, potere, luoghi, in «Journal of the Société internationale d'ethnographie», n. 1, 2012; Critical Urban Gardening as Post-Environmental Practice, in «Local Environment», 16/1, 2011; Environmental Politics and Place Authenticity Protection, in «Environmental Values», vol. 18/3, 2009.

PRADEEP CHAKKARATH is a Social and Cultural Psychologist at the Ruhr-University Bochum, Germany. He is also a Fellow Alumnus of the Institute for Advanced Study at the University of Konstanz, Germany. Currently, his main interests are in human development from a cultural and interdisciplinary perspective, the history and methodology of the social sciences, and the relevance of the indigenous psychology approach. Main publications: P. Chakkarath, Kultur und Psychologie: Zur wissenschaftlichen Entstehung und zur Ortsbestimmung der Kulturpsychologie [Culture and psychology: On the scientific development and status quo of cultural psychology], Kovac, Hamburg 2003; W. Friedlmeier-P. Chakkarath-B. Schwarz (eds), Culture and Human Development: The Importance of Crosscultural Research for the Social Sciences, Psychology Press, New York 2005; P. Chakkarath, The Role of Indigenous Psychologies in the Building of Basic Cultural Psychology, in J. Valsiner (ed.), The Oxford Handbook of Culture and Psychology, Oxford University Press, New York 2012.

ROBERTO FRANZINI TIBALDEO, PhD in Science of Culture (Modena, 2005), and in Philosophy (Torino, 2011), is Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Political Philosophy at the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna – Pisa. His research focuses on contemporary nihilism and its relationship with technique and ethics. He has been awarded DAAD research grants to carry out research at the Konstanz Universität (Germany). Among his philosophical interests: ethics and politics of responsibility, landscape ethics, intercultural education, philosophy for community. Among his recent publications: From Dualism to the Preservation of Ambivalence. Hans Jonas' "Ontological Revolution" as the Background to his Ethics of Responsibility, in C. Larrère-É. Pommier (eds), L'éthique de la vie chez Hans Jonas, Publications de la Sorbonne, Paris 2013; Responsabilità sociale per il paesaggio. Un quadro riflessivo per le comunità alpine, in B. Castiglioni-M. Varotto (eds), Whose Alps are These? Governance, Ownerships and Belongings in Contemporary Alpine Regions, Padova University Press, Padova 2013.

HEIDRUN FRIESE is Professor of Intercultural Communication at the TU Chemnitz, Germany. Engaging a broad range of theoretical and anthropological issues, her research interests focus on social and political theory, (cultural) identities; time, history and memory; concepts of space, borders and transnationalism, undocumented migration; friendship and hospitality. Recent publications include Notions of Friendship in Philosophical and Anthropological Thought, in A. Kumar Giri-J. Clammer (eds), Philosophy and Anthropology: Border-Crossing and Transformations, Anthem Press, London 2013; Border Economies. Lampedusa and the Nascent Migration Industry, in A. Mountz-L. Briskman (eds), «Shima: The International Journal of Research Into Island Cultures», Special issue on Detention Islands, 6, 2 (2012); The Limits of Hospitality. Political Philosophy, Undocumented Migration and the Local Arena, Special issue «European Journal for Social Theory», 13, 3 (2010), pp. 323-341; Times, History and Discourse, in «Time and History», edited by W. Gallois, special issue Rethinking History, 14, 3 (2010).

BARBARA HENRY is Full Professor of Political Philosophy at the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna – Pisa. She did research work at the University of Bochum, Saarland, Erlangen-Nürnberg, and lectured at the University of Frankfurt am Main. The main issues of her inquiries are: German classical philosophy, neokantianism, modern political myths and totalitarianism, political and cultural identity, tolerance and interculturality, political and cultural globalisation, gender issues, qualitative empirical research. She published books and articles on E. Cassirer, H. Arendt, M. Heidegger, E. Jünger. She has been in charge of the Confucio Institute in Pisa till 2010. Among her publications: Dal Golem ai cyborgs. Trasmigrazioni dell'immaginario, Belforte Editore, Livorno 2013; with A. Pirni (eds), Der Asymmetrische Westen. Pragmatik der Koexistenz in pluralistischen Gesellschaften, Transcript, Bielefeld 2012; Multiculturalismo, in L. Cedroni-M. Calloni, Filosofia politica contemporanea, Le Monnier Università, Milano 2012; Trasmigrations among Cultural Imaginaries. Political-Philosophical Symbols between West and East, in «International Journal of Humanity and Social Sciences», Vol. 1, Issue 2, 2011; The "Weltbild" Concept According to Ernst Cassirer, in «Humana.Mente. Journal of Philosophical Studies», Vol. 18, 2011.

ANNA LORETONI is Associate Professor in Political Philosophy at the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna – Pisa. Since 2011 she is the coordinator of the PhD program in “Politics, Human Rights and Sustainability” and since 2013 she is Vice-Dean of the School of Social Sciences at the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna. Since 2002 she also held positions at the University for Foreigners Perugia and the University of Florence. Furthermore she taught Human Rights at the Kalì Ahfad University in Marrakesh (Marocco) and the Center on Human Rights of the Peking University (China). Her research interests concern the war theories of Carl von Clausewitz and the Kantian reflections on a perpetual peace and international order, war theories of the 20th century, federalism and national and supranational identities. In the last years she was working on the European integration. Among her publications: Pace e progresso in Kant, ESI, Napoli 1996; Teorie della pace. Teorie della guerra, Edizioni ETS, Pisa 2005; B. Henry-A. Loretoni (eds), The Emerging European Union. Identity, Citizenship, Rights, Edizioni ETS, Pisa 2005; B. Henry-A. Loretoni-A. Pirni, Laicità e principio di non discriminazione, Rubbettino, Soveria Mannelli 2009; “Il piacere di disilludere”. Disvelamento e decostruzione attraverso il genere, in A. Pirni (ed.), Verità del potere, potere della verità, Edizioni ETS, Pisa 2012.

JÉRÔME PAUCHARD cooperates with Univeristé Paris-Diderot VII (2011-2013), University of Sichuan (2013), Institut Ricci (2012-2013) and Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna – Pisa (2011) on research projects. His areas of specialization: Chinese philosophy (Legism, Chan buddhism), literature of the Southern Song dynasty and psychoanalysis in China. Most significant publications: Retour du Confucianisme, mais lequel?, Ancora del Mediterraneo, Napoli 2011; the translation of S. Leys, La foresta in fiamme, Le Lettere, Firenze 2006; the translation of Lu Xun, La vera storia di Ah Qi, Giunti, Firenze 2006; Le problème avec François Jullien, PUF, Paris, forthcoming.

ALBERTO PIRNI is Assistant Professor of Political Philosophy at the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna – Pisa. He obtained a PhD in Philosophy (2003) from the University of Genoa. He spent research periods by Eberhard-Karls-Universität Tübingen (1997; 2000; 2001; 2004) and by the Albert-Ludwigs-Universität Freiburg i.Br. (2005). He is Scientific Coordinator of Acqui Terme Intensive Seminar in Philosophy (Alessandria, Italy). He is also member of the Scientific Board of the PhD Programme in “Politics, Human Rights and Sustainability” at the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna. He taught at the University of Genoa, Piemonte Orientale, Milano Bicocca, the Universidad Autónoma de Madrid. Main research fields: Classical German Philosophy, theories of identity, otherness, community and recognition in multicultural perspective; public sphere and supra-national processes of integration. Among his publications: Filosofia pratica e sfera pubblica. Percorsi a confronto, Diabasis, Reggio Emilia 2005; La via identitaria al multiculturalismo. Charles Taylor e oltre, Rubbettino, Soveria Mannelli 2006 (with B. Henry – Giacomo Matteotti Award 2006); A. Pirni (ed.), Logiche dell'alterità, Edizioni ETS, Pisa 2009; B. Henry-A. Pirni (eds), Der Asymmetrische Westen. Pragmatik der Koexistenz in pluralistischen Gesellschaften, Transcript, Bielefeld 2012.

FRANCESCO MARIA TEDESCO, PhD in Theory and History of Law, is Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Political Philosophy at the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna – Pisa. He was contract Lecturer at the Suor Orsola Benincasa University of Napoli. He received a Post-Doctoral Fellowship at the SUM – Istituto Italiano di Scienze Umane, Firenze and taught Human Rights at the Università per Stranieri, Perugia. Among his publications: Introduzione a Hayek, Laterza, Roma-Bari 2004, Diritti umani e relativismo, Laterza, Roma-Bari 2009, and Eccedenza sovrana, Mimesis, Milano-Udine 2012.

DORIS WEIDEMANN is Professor of Intercultural Training with focus on the Greater China area at the University of Applied Sciences of Zwickau, Germany. Her research interests include cultural psychology, challenges of transnational research collaboration, intercultural learning and Chinese indigenous psychology. She is the author of Interkulturelles Lernen. Erfahrungen mit dem chinesischen "Gesicht", Transcript, Bielefeld 2004, and Fit für Studium und Praktikum in China: Ein interkulturelles Trainingsprogramm (together with J. Tan, Transcript, Bielefeld 2010). She also edited the volumes Pursuit of Meaning: Advances in Cultural and Cross-Cultural Psychology (together with J. Straub-C. Kölbl-B. Zielke, Transcript, Bielefeld 2006) and Internationalization of the Social Sciences (together with M. Kuhn, Transcript, Bielefeld 2010), among others.

SIU-KEUNG WONG (黃兆強), PhD in East Asian Studies (Université Paris VII, 1987), is Full Professor at Soochow University (Taiwan). He is the former Dean of the School of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences at Soochow University. He has also held the position of President of the Society of History of ROC (Taiwan). His research focuses on Historiography of Chinese History and Modern Neo-Confucianism. His publications are mainly in Chinese and focus on these topics.